Prologue

by Elías Hurtado Hoyo and Eduardo Chehtman

We were born on November 8, 1919 with the patronage of the Rotary Club of Montevideo and from there the history of Argentine Rotarianism begins, which currently has around 600 Rotary clubs in the country. We have maintained, in almost the entire century, a membership of more than 200 members and today we are 280, all opinion leaders in their respective areas. Our centennial history is riddled with events related to the life of our Republic that reverberated beyond our borders, always in accordance with the ideals of Rotary International (RI). We managed to combine the teachings in the service of helping, both in the concept of giving to the sufferer and to those who have less, with that of teaching how to achieve their growth for full development as human beings, all carried out on a plane of friendship and fellowship.

For the Centennial celebrations, our partners assumed the responsibility of carrying them out. They all felt they were the leaders, which made it easier to organize public image activities to connect us to the world of various kinds: spiritual, cultural, educational, historical, social, sports and community action.

We are grateful to Areopagus for inviting us to lead the last Meeting of the First Centennial and at the same time the First Meeting of the Second Centennial.

At the outset, we highlight the effort made by the Administrative Secretariat that maintained the traditional weekly activities without declining (speakers, bedside table, fellows, flyers, reports, Party of the laurels, Trasandinean Award, Rioplatense Award, Best Companion Award, New Partners, Treasury, etc.) and assume all the extensive task related to the Centennial (programming, dissemination, execution) which allowed the proposal to be successfully completed and classified.

COMMITMENT TO THE COMMUNITY IN OUR CENTENARY

by Raúl J. Romero

The first 100 years of life of our beloved Rotary Club of Buenos Aires show a history of service to the community that we intend to increase day by day. The convictions of our partners define our moral and ethical values, which are the vital impulse to discover the needs of the most vulnerable people and organize efforts to attend to them promptly and efficiently. We exercise empathy towards our neighbor to be able to put ourselves in the other's place with humility and thus better understand their situation and their needs.

We implement our solidarity commitment to the community through various mechanisms: direct donations made by our Institution and other mechanisms provided by Rotary International, such as

District and Global Grants, aimed at meeting needs in areas such as health, education and the provision of drinking water. The active participation of our partners in the projects is noteworthy, both in identifying the needs to be met and in the implementation of the different community actions. We honor our commitments to society in tandem with Rotary's mission of "doing good in the world" and living up to our motto of "giving of yourself before thinking of yourself."

We start our next 100 years with optimism, knowing that the feeling of friendship and camaraderie that exists among our partners represents a great starting point to join forces in the service of a community that so badly needs it.

The Rotary International and for us especially the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, have a deep and strong humanistic orientation. In their vocation of service they are linked by acting in life with a clear spiritual impregnation.

It is a constant action of helping “the other” without waiting or seeking answers of thanks. It is simply a need to share your existence with the surrounding community, and even beyond distance.

They are resizable material gestures that hide a deep and generous expression of love ... not measurable. They are true expressions of spirituality where the religious and the cultural are combined, even for the agnostics who integrate it.

This recognition, valued and accepted in almost all environments in recent decades, gives a new dimension to the conception and definition of what it is to be a person.

The important thing for the RI, and for the RCBA, is to give great value with hierarchy of transcendent to the union of the physical, psychic, social and environmental together with the spiritual.

That’s what Rotarians do when they take action.

To the existential they contribute the transcendence of the not ponderable. Implying to recognize the “extension” as a generating force of their acts.

In the centenary of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, we consider that, for a true recognition of what was done in the Centuria, it was essential to incorporate acts directly related to the spirit, while acknowledging that love for the Club that all its associates.

It is what gave strength to its realization as a permanent expression of Public Image, and to its motto “Rotary Connects the World”...

by Adalberto Z. Barbosa

One could speak of Greek culture and also of Mayan culture, of rural or industrial culture, of tango culture, of the culture of an institution, and so on indefinitely.

For this reason, it is necessary to specify in each case which culture we refer to when we mention this broad concept and, therefore, so trivialized.

Strictly speaking, the term culture comes from Latin and refers to the cultivation of the land, the iustissime tellus of the Romans. But already in its origins, Cicero extended that concept to the cultivation of the spirit. In other words, it would be the voluntary and constant development of man's intellectual and spiritual faculties and, at the same time, the product of that action. Man would be like this, the more perfect the more cultured he was. Ideal of perfection that was already present in Plato and in general, in all the thought of the Greek philosophers.

But remembering the etymological origin of the word culture would not go beyond being a mere illustration as long as its deep meaning was not deepened.

The cultivation of the land marks a definitive cut with the ancestral nomadism of primitive man. By working the land, man establishes himself. Settles down. Build families and villages.

It is not for nothing that the symbol of Romulus as the founder of Rome is the plow. And all of this requires effort and time, without which you could not obtain the fruits of your labor. And it also implies unraveling the rules of nature to harmonize them with its work: there is a time to sow and another to harvest, as Ecclesiastes teaches.

Culture follows that same course: it is a permanent construction that takes time and effort. It thrives on knowledge and experience and tends to achieve high moral and intellectual principles. It may be underpinned by important academic successes, but diplomas, certificates, degrees and postgraduates do not in themselves generate a cultured man. Just remember that Borges had no title.

Culture is more about wisdom than information. It has to do with a worldview, with a heritage of values, sometimes inherited, but always expanded and maintained by individual effort and the willingness to share and transmit it.

The fine arts, the music, the history, the readings, the taste for ideas, an enlightened life experience, the understanding of reality and a certain vision of the world that will come make the formation of a cultured man.

The Rotary Club of Buenos Aires has cultivated from its beginnings a culture of service and friendship and on those bases - solid in and of itself - it has been creating the conditions to equip its members with those cultural elements that help them along the way of a full life.

ROTARY WRITERS PROJECT FOR THE CENTENNIAL OF THE ROTARY CLUB OF BUENOS AIRES (ERC)

The project for the creation of the Rotary Writers Club (ERC) sponsored by Carlos D. Heguy, Carlos E. Speroni and Jorge Kogan is approved. Consequence of the determination and tenacity of Dn. Carlos Heguy emerged on the horizon of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires (RCBA) the possibility of bringing together its members dedicated to various specialties with the aim of exchanging ideas and experiences, founded on the diversity and quality of them as writers who have contributed to delineate the cultural heritage of the club, the country and the Latin American brothers.

With the collaboration of Jorge Kogan and Carlos E. Speroni to the original idea, Rotary Writers of the Centennial (ERC) was born, within the program of sociocultural and sports activities of the Centennial of the RCBA, whose purpose is extended by expanding its membership to members of other clubs. In the expectation of achieving a significant contribution to Rotary's objectives, the Centennial Library with digital support, the Catalog of Authors and Publications and general information through its blog (www.rcba-erc.com) signal the beginning of this dream. from his inspiring Don Carlos Heguy.

by EDRI Carlos Speroni

According to Alfredo Palacios “No one is better just because of the ideas he has” and it is natural to think that we are better or not, because of our actions, because of the way we define works that are love, our good reasons.

Paul Harris bequeathed to us that “the greatness of Rotary is in its future, not in its past” and to make that message effective we must preserve it and transmit it; make it alive, update it, fit it within the Rotary ideology and objective.

Everything that accredits the dignity of ancient times for having survived until today, illustrious and exemplary, is nothing archaic because the patina of time has entrusted and ennobled it.

The archaic thing is to try to insert itself again in a world that has already died and is increasingly buried and remote, in the times of accelerated globalization in which we have to live.

It is basic, essential and important the efficient articulation between the postulate and the action, between the project and its execution, between the need and the service because the fine thread, which like the umbilical cord transfers the nutrient and the dynamics, are the communications.

The speed of technological advancement allows us to communicate in tiny fractions of time and this speed, which will surely continue to accelerate beyond our imagination, multiplies the efficiency of the service that is so urgently required by millions of dispossessed to whom we owe help.

In summary, the destiny of people depends to a great extent on communication and understanding between them, making communication one more citizen right, such as education, health, access to housing, work and the right to dignified life.

Increasingly, individuals and organizations around the world are joining the network so the RCBA could not be an exception and, in that context and on the occasion of the historic celebration of its Centennial, it magnificently crowned its responsibility by offering a multitude of expressions, each one more transcendent than the other.

Its website, the legendary INFORMA, the promotional videos and the presence in all editions of Rotary Life have been stimulating ways to reinforce the Club’s public image, providing valuable ways to maintain contacts and connection with the community that understands it.

The tournaments and sports days of the most varied disciplines could not be left out of the celebration, as well as the Acknowledgments to distinguished personalities outstanding in the field of community action, sport and culture.

A final recognition to the members of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, to its Rotary areopagus, to its Directors, to the members of the Rotaract and to that silent and solidary group that always offers the best of itself to accompany the actions of the Club and which is united at ADARBA.

Rotary's Hundred Years

We celebrate the first century of a noble institution dedicated to promoting the ideal of service and altruistic commitment to society

November 6, 2019

It is not common to ask about the sense of the rotary voice in English, which has no other connotation in the Spanish language than that of rotator, rotary. Rotary is the name by which Paul Harris and four other prominent members of the Chicago community resolved in 1905 to found a club designed to advance the ideal of service as the foundation of every worthy enterprise, and especially the altruistic commitment to society. With Harris's decisive inspiration, Rotarian founders have tended to global peace, racial integration and friendship based on solidarity and ethical principles between professionals of relevant role in the most diverse disciplines of human activity. The foundation of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, of which the centenary is celebrated the day after tomorrow, is a fact close to this newspaper. Jorge Adolfo Miter, who was the first president of that institution, held the leadership of LA NACIÓN on November 8, 1919 in one of its moments of greatest expansion.

For 100 years, the Rotary of Buenos Aires has maintained a special relationship with the counterpart institution in Montevideo. It was precisely from this club, founded a year earlier, that the incentives for an equivalent initiative in our city to materialize. In this way, the strength of the links between the two and the significance accorded to the distinction that they confer in a joint manner, year after year, on a personality with a notable career in the River Plate area are understood. In the Rotaries, as the word says, it is rotated so that the ties that unite its members are not restricted to groups among the associates and the friendship thus flows in a spiritual enrichment of each of them with all the others.

In accordance with the modality that prevails in the many dozens of countries in which the Rotarian spirit is present, these clubs act independently and independently of the political or religious party systems; they are only interested in propagating harmony among human beings, without discrimination of any kind.

Just as there are other Rotaries in the interior of the country, that of Buenos Aires has been the patron of the foundation of similar entities, of a neighborhood order, in the city where it is based.

The list of charities in which the Rotary of Buenos Aires has been involved is vast. It is still participating in an old campaign aimed at eradicating childhood paralysis. His achievements have been important, but he continues to collaborate in this field, since there are still African countries where this evil is present.

It has also been a means of substantial support for the delivery of medical instruments where their assistance has been required.

He has also made contributions to the reopening of the Children's Endocrinology room of the Ricardo Gutiérrez Children's Hospital and annually grants subsidies to the Diana School for hearing impaired children.

The Tognoni scholarship, which comes from a significant donation, allows an Argentine professional to consolidate his training in first-rate foreign universities. His contributions to public education have been known since he promoted, in 1927, the creation of the Argentine Association of English Culture (Icana). No less outstanding has been the participation of the Rotary of Buenos Aires in the negotiations that led to peace, in 1935, in the Chaco Boreal war, between Paraguay and Bolivia; to cease fire in 1995 in the confrontation between Peruvians and Ecuadorians, and to calm in 2006 the disagreements between Uruguay and the government of Néstor Kirchner over the Botnia paper mill, which could have settled in our country if the intelligence with which it had been different National interests were articulated here.

We join, for all that said, the celebration of the first hundred years of an institution of associative principles that Argentines would do well to emulate more than they have done, for its invaluable contribution and solidarity among us.

Una rueda que no se detiene

La historia y los secretos del Rotary Club de Buenos Aires, una organización con más de 100 años en la Argentina.

Nació en 1937 en España, durante la Guerra Civil. A los tres años, su familia se instaló en Chaco, Argentina, en una región llamada "Pampa del Infierno". Recibido de médico por la UBA en 1959, se convirtió en eminencia de cirugía y, en 1998, presidente de la Asociación de Médicos de Argentina (AMA), donde fue reelecto en cinco oportunidades. Operó durante seis décadas y entre sus pacientes tuvo a varios expresidentes, como Raúl Alfonsín y Fernando de la Rúa. Pero, además de todas esas cucardas, Elías Hurtado Hoyo es el presidente del Rotary Club Buenos Aires, entidad que el año pasado cumplió 100 años en la Argentina.

El Rotary Club tiene una idea fuerza: promover acciones en beneficio de la comunidad. "¿Qué hacemos? Nos juntamos para hacer actividades sociales. Somos una ONG de servicio para quienes lo solicitan. Apoyamos al que menos tiene", explica Hurtado Hoyo desde su oficina, donde la rueda dentada, el símbolo del Rotary, tiene un lugar prominente. Para poder cumplir con su misión de ayuda, todos los socios pagan una cuota mensual y una comida semanal, concurran o no.

A nivel mundial, el Rotary le debe su nacimiento a Paul Percy Harris, quien lo fundó en febrero de 1905 en Chicago, Estados Unidos. La expansión fue, primero, en ese país. En 1916, Heriberto Percival Coates, un comerciante uruguayo que viajaba a Estados Unidos por cuestiones comerciales, decidió expandir la entidad en Sudamérica y plantó bandera del Rotary Club Montevideo en 1918 —el primero debajo de la línea del Ecuador. De hecho, es el padrino del club local, inaugurado en 1919 y del cual su primer presidente fue Jorge Mitre, en ese entonces director de La Nación. Después llegó la expansión en el país, en Rosario, La Plata, Córdoba, Mendoza y Bahía Blanca —hoy, en la Argentina hay alrededor de 599 clubes en los distritos en los que participan más de 9600 socios. En el mundo, son 1,2 millones.

Los miembros del Rotary en la Argentina son, mayormente, profesionales con trayectoria en sus disciplinas. Para sumarse es solo por invitación y el candidato tiene que ser presentado por un socio, que aporta además su currículum. "Después, una junta evaluadora lo tamiza y se le consulta a los demás socios. Depende la época, el proceso puede llevar entre cuatro y seis meses", cuenta Hurtado Hoyo.

Su principal foco, las acciones para promover mejoras en la sociedad, data desde cuando Harris promovió que los clubes hicieran y entregaran sillas de ruedas, o una campaña de vacunación efectiva contra la poliomielitis. El Rotary también fue clave para terminar con la guerra de Paraguay y Bolivia por la región del Chaco, cuenta Hurtado Hoyo. El artífice fue Carlos Saavedra Lamas, entonces ministro de Relaciones Exteriores de la Argentina y miembro del Rotary, que recibió el Premio Nobel de la Paz en 1936. Entre sus acciones locales, realizan donaciones a hospitales, otorgan becas de estudio y donaron 250 filtros de agua en Santiago del Estero.

"Lo que siempre destaco de este país es la educación. Pero se fue degradando y en los niveles más bajos es donde más repercutió. Un educador, además de enseñar una temática, es formador de personas. Y se educa con el ejemplo", asegura Hurtado Hoyo, quien concluye: "Pero la educación no es solo de las escuelas, sino de la familia. Hubo una fuerte degradación de la educación, la policía, el empleo público... La gente aprendió a sobrevivir. Hay una patología que hicieron no uno, sino todos los gobiernos. Eso es lo que hemos perdido. No se puede asumir un cargo público para ir a aprender en la función, porque cuando termina de aprender se está yendo y llega otro. Sé que esto es duro". <AP> F.R.

The initiative aims to better disseminate and practice Rotary values by designating Guests of Honor as Guests of Honor while maintaining their status as such for the duration of their mission in the Republic.

The participation of the Heads of Mission in our Club as Guests of Honor tries to allow them to better understand the characteristics, aspirations and vision of businessmen, professionals and representative officials of the most varied activities of Argentine life through a frank relationship, in around a table of friends on the occasion of service.

It is important to highlight that one of Rotarian's objectives is to promote understanding, goodwill and peace among nations through the fellowship of businessmen, professionals and the protagonists of public life, all united under the ideal of service. Based on this, the participation of the Ambassadors in our lunches offers the possibility of listening and asking questions to the leaders of our society that the Club convenes weekly as speakers. We intend that this exposure to the problems and visions of our country raised from this rostrum and at our tables, contributes to the Heads of Mission being able to transmit to their respective capitals an enriched, updated and dynamic vision of Argentina today..

The presence of the Ambassadors in our Club constitutes a significant support to fulfill the motto of the Rotary Club International for the year 2020/2021. "Rotary Opens Opportunities." We can connect and unite to drive real change in such a way as to open up opportunities.

COMMITMENT TO THE COMMUNITY IN OUR CENTENARY

by Jorge Grinpelc

The first 100 years of life of our beloved Rotary Club of Buenos Aires show a history of service to the community that we intend to increase day by day. The convictions of our partners define our moral and ethical values, which are the vital impulse to discover the needs of the most vulnerable people and organize efforts to attend to them promptly and efficiently. We exercise empathy towards our neighbor to be able to put ourselves in the other's place with humility and thus better understand their situation and their needs.

We implement our solidarity commitment to the community through various mechanisms: direct donations made by our Institution and other mechanisms provided by Rotary International, such as

District and Global Grants, aimed at meeting needs in areas such as health, education and the provision of drinking water. The active participation of our partners in the projects is noteworthy, both in identifying the needs to be met and in the implementation of the different community actions. We honor our commitments to society in tandem with Rotary's mission of "doing good in the world" and living up to our motto of "giving of yourself before thinking of yourself."

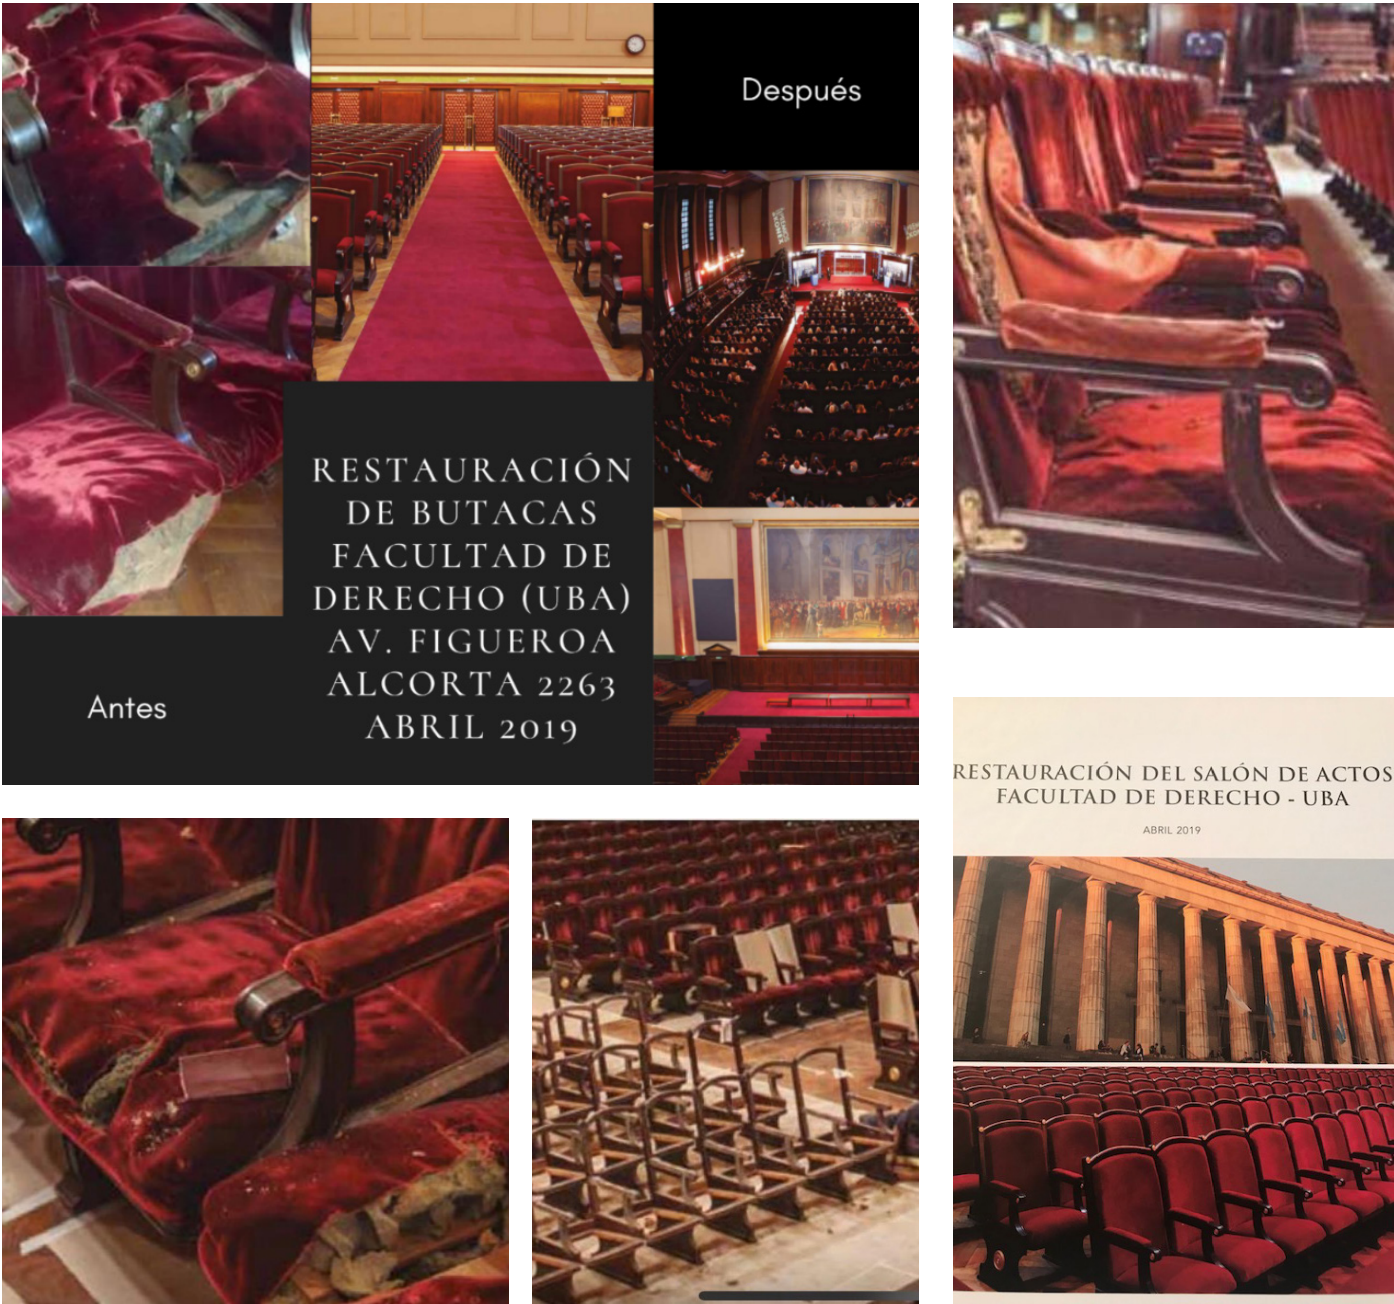

We start our next 100 years with optimism, knowing that the feeling of friendship and camaraderie that exists between our partners represents a great starting point to join efforts in the service of a community that needs it so much.

Dear Rotarian friends, everyone; from the social experiences lived in Rotary during the centenary year and the idea of belonging and being recognized, which according to Peter Senge in “The Fifth Discipline” points out, that the equivalent of our greeting “hello” in the tribes of South Africa is “Sawu bona”, literally meaning “I see you”, the members of the tribe respond “Sikkhona”, “I am here”; When these customs are transformed into cultural principles that allow us to share common values, benefiting us socially as people, they allow us to periodically gather and comfort ourselves in our Rotary meetings, as well as when we are cordially received in other Rotary clubs in our country as well as abroad; feeling once again rewarded for belonging to Rotary.

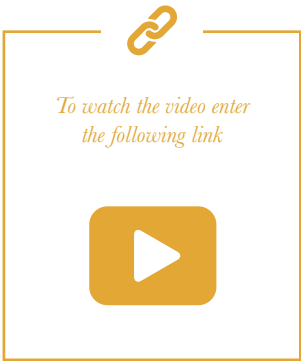

Special mention deserves the countless celebrations, and the unforgettable “Centennial Gala Dinner of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires and Argentine Rotarianism”, which we attended with my wife Alicia Almada, partner of ADARBA, Rotarians of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, Rotary clubs of District 4895, different national Rotary districts and sister countries, we lived the recognition that I mentioned earlier during this social and cultural exchange.

This action, mobilize and invite to participate. Thus, other institutions that were part of our celebrations, aroused their interest in our values and extended it to the whole of society, putting into practice “I see you” and “I am here”, a social award, to be recognized as a willing friend to provide a service. The actions of our Rotarians, and the acknowledgments received by the president of our club, Dr. Elías Hurtado Hoyo, who motivated and encouraged the membership so that this was the celebration of “The 100 years of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires and the Argentine Rotarianism ”; that we will remember excitedly in our Rotary history.

The Rotary Club of Buenos Aires throughout these first hundred years has recognized institutions and personalities of national relevance with distinctions that have been awarded in the belief that they have been awarded to those who have favored the progress of human relations by contributing to the construction of a a better world based on values twinned with those of the Rotary spirit. It is for this reason that it has rewarded outstanding figures of national activity and public servants. On the other hand, scholarships are awarded that allow the development of those who have excelled in their professional activity. As well as others promoting the self-improvement of high school students and rewarding the spirit of companionship.

Aware of the diverse and verifiable benefits and values that sports practice brings to the human being, and to their comprehensive education, is that ROTARY has always occupied a prominent place.

In this way, it has fostered the development of competencies in different towns and communities throughout different regions of the world, several of them with the main purpose and objective of gathering efforts and resources, with which to later attend to some of the elementary needs of those.

That is why in our country, and during the celebrations of the Centennial of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, dean of the Argentine Rotary, and which have been carried out since mid-2019, Sport has occupied a central place, as part of one of the Avenues drawn by its current authorities.

In such conditions, a series of competitions have been held so far in the most varied sports disciplines, many of which had the members themselves as enthusiastic participants and competitors, or were counted among their organizers.

Sport is part of the values that ROTARY professes, an apt way for the development and promotion of social and personal values, since from an early age it contributes to the growth and maturation of young people, from which it reports recognized advantages and benefits to the people's health throughout the life cycle. And also, as it has been demonstrated throughout history, it unites peoples and cultures. That is why it deserves the place it occupies among the activities that our Rotary Club of Buenos Aires promotes on a daily basis.

Since its origins, the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires has shown a constant concern for collaborating and making its contribution to solving the problems of the community in which it operates. This permanent relationship with the environment has motivated many people and institutions to show solidarity with the actions undertaken by the Club throughout its existence. This has been particularly visible during the Centennial celebrations and motivated the Board of Directors to decide to make its recognition explicit to those who contributed to show off and transcendence the numerous initiatives and activities that recalled the institution's foundation and trajectory during its first 100 years, years of life.

“IGNORANCE IS A THREAT TO PEACE” – PAUL HARRIS

In the framework of the Centennial of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires we understood that the art of letters, in some of its forms, could not be absent. From here, with the encouragement of our President Dr. Elías Hurtado Hoyo and the support of the current Board of Directors, we began to work on the idea of promoting a Literary Contest that meets certain characteristics, such as the presence of Rotary throughout the country and the participation of the youngest, in order to publicize the principles and works of our club from an early age. With this spirit we carry out the union of the main Rotary clubs in our country, with public schools, state, municipal, provincial and national management throughout the territory, and youth from the secondary sector between 12 and 18 years of age, generating in this way Rotary's way of influencing the lives of others and brotherhood in our community.

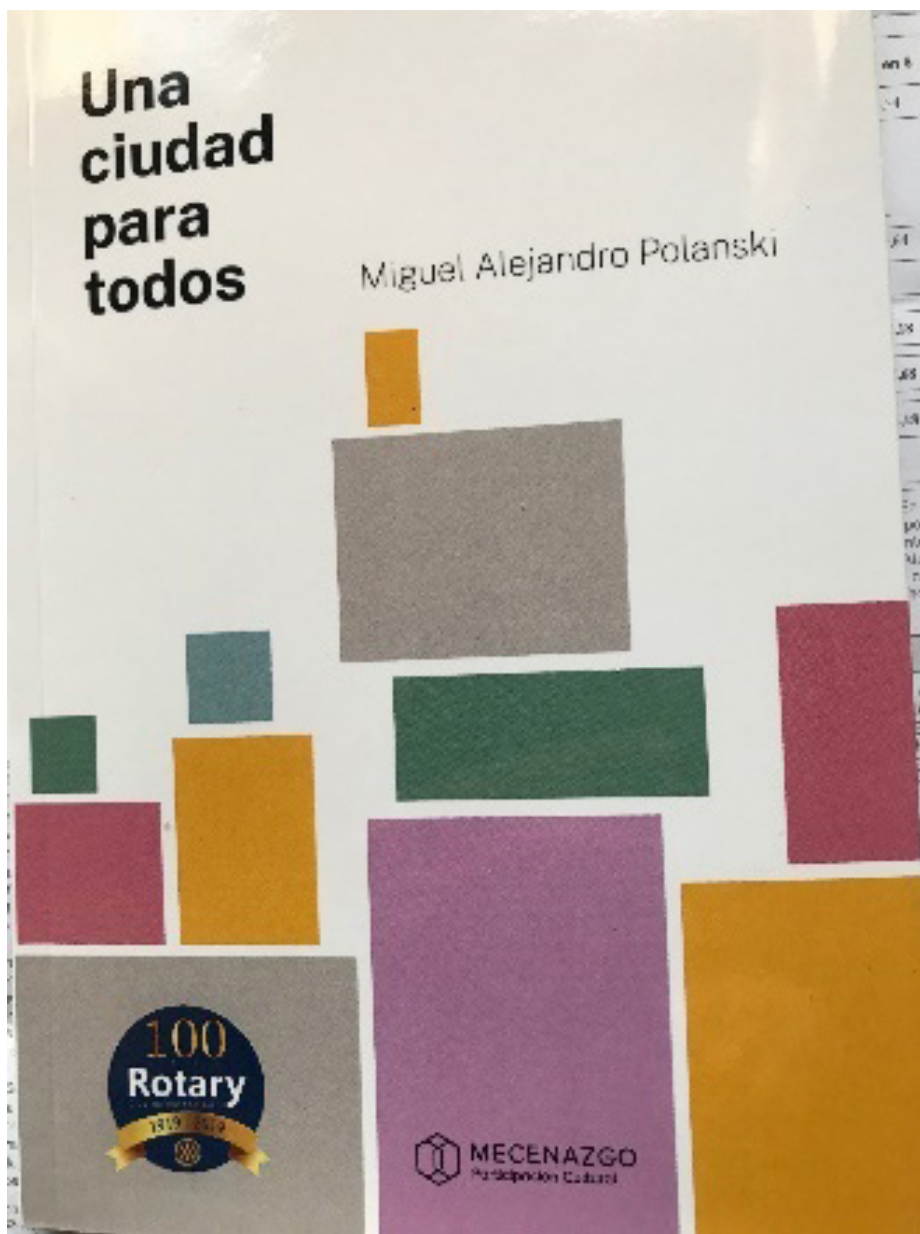

Our vision was to promote in young people not only the interest and love for reading and writing, but also that they get to know Rotary, its values, its works, its principles of friendship and service, generating in them a clear interest in that will to service that characterizes us, using this Literary Contest as a resource to achieve our goal. “Literature is always an expedition to the truth,” said Franz Kafka. With this spirit and the idea that literature leads us to expand our world, transporting us to places beyond where we live, this literary contest emerged, linking this area of letters with Rotary and its goal of transcending in the community and reaching places where they need us most. We thank the Board of Directors, the members who selflessly accepted to be part of our Jury, and dear friend Eduardo Becher, for all the support received in promoting ideas and suggestions to carry out this contest. Finally, a special thanks to our dear friend and partner Federico Carenzo, who with his constant warmth and unconditional support, collaborated and worked with us to achieve this beautiful project.

In this 2019/20 exercise, the members of the Board of Directors appointed for this period had the honor of carrying out the events that were organized to celebrate the CENTENARY OF THE ROTARY CLUB OF BUENOS AIRES.

Numerous cultural events, sports competitions, tournaments and meetings provided the framework for our club members to enjoy and share this important event with our members and their families, both from our club and from different clubs in the district.

Being 100 years old was a very important milestone for our club and the organized celebrations were a clear demonstration of the activities with which our club reached out to district clubs and Rotary friends.

It began with an Interreligious Meeting that we shared with religious of all faiths, since in it, which was held at the Argentine Medical Association, we were accompanied by representatives of all the churches and communities in our country.

This Centennial was supported by the National Government and by the Government of the City of Buenos Aires, which, in both cases and by separate Decrees, gave the Centennial the character of a special recognition of the 100 years of existence of our club and as an event of public interest in the centenary of our club's existence Chess tournaments for children and adults, bridge tournaments, fencing, regattas of different categories, shooting tournaments, horse races at the Hippodrome in Palermo and the Hippodrome in San Isidro allowed us carry out the festivities accompanied by our Rotary members and their families

The art exhibitions and the exhibition of historical photographs of Buenos Aires that took place in the Assembly Hall of the Argentine Medical Association and the commemorative act of the participation of the Rotary Club in the peace negotiations between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Finally, the celebrations were crowned with the important CENTENARY DINNER, which was held at the facilities of the Sociedad Rural Argentina with the accompaniment of numerous members and their families and Rotarians from Uruguay, Brazil, Paraguay and Chile..

All these acts have allowed us to make our institution visible and, with it, the public image of the Rotary Club that will allow us to continue with the activities that we have been developing for the benefit of the community.

Manager: Viviana De Carlo.

Secretary: Carolina P. Morelli, Gonzalo San Martín y Jesús Bonillo.

Treasury: Laura Maugeri.

The 2019-2020 Board of Directors, at the beginning of its management, considered it necessary to update the Secretariat's computer system. Two computers (a notebook and a CPU) were purchased to carry out the Centennial activities.

Likewise, in March 2020, two notebooks had to be purchased due to the COVID19 pandemic so that staff could carry out their administrative work remotely. In May 2020, the Club improved the CPU to update and improve administrative operating capacities.

It was decided to update the website to improve the Club's institutional image. The work on the page is the design and development of an institutional site with 7 sections integrated into Wordpress, the collation of 7 sections with Wordpress, together with the database of partners with a php structure and search engine, together with the design and programming of the partner sector, including three pages: Partner login, partner finder, and membership record with the option to download in pdf.

10. Scholarships

RCBA Scholarships for Secondary Studies

As usual, also during the Centennial year, the Club delivered 70 scholarships for students studying secondary school from first to sixth year (some up to fifth, depending on the modality), for an amount of $ 8400.- to each student in 4 installments distributed throughout the year; the first with their enrollment as a regular student and the remaining three against the delivery of their report card.

The staff of the Secretariat maintained direct contact with them, since the condition to obtain and maintain said “prizes” is to maintain good grades and remain with the concern and curiosity to continue learning, until they are received.

In the cases in which their grades fell, each individual student was treated and it was recommended to use the money for a particular support and thus not lose their stimulus / scholarship. It was not a simple process of giving them money, but rather being aware of the reality of each and their personal achievements, often facing adversity.

These students all come from humble homes and were originally proposed by the primary schools that the RCBA sponsors and are within our radius of action.

The expense that the entity faced to continue this important project was supported by entities such as the Argentine Medical Association and prominent Rotarians such as EDRI Carlos E. Speroni. Likewise, the members Jorge Ader, Guillermo Artaeta, Juan José Ávila, Eduardo Becher (2 scholarships), Alberto Bieule, Enrique Braun Estrugamou, Eduardo Cartasso Naveyra, Daniel Charles, Gustavo Criscuolo, Julián De Diego, Federico Eijo, Juan Flemming, Jorge Grinpelc, Diego Ibarbia, Juan Insua, Alfredo Iribarren, Mauro Keller Sarmiento, Juan E. Llamazares, Alejandro Marolda, Miguel Maxwell, Luis Ovsejevich, Luis Prudent, Winfried Rohde (+), Manuel Sacerdote (2 scholarships), Pedro Simoncini (2 scholarships) and Martín Sucari (4 scholarships).

The Committee for Pro Youth Activities, Scholarships and Student Loans, chaired -during the Centennial year- by the consortium Gabriel Astarloa, was in charge of talking with the applicants and finding out about their basic needs, their family environment, the work situation of their parents or guardians, as well as the applicant was asked for a letter explaining their motivations (what will they use the scholarship for? ? What studies do you want to do? If you are planning to study a tertiary or university degree at the end of your secondary cycle? Etc).

This letter was attached to the file of each fellow.

In this Rotary exercise that coincided with the 100 years of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires, approximately 7 students finished their secondary studies, who were supported throughout their process and absolutely all of them expressed interest in continuing to study.

We want to share with Rotary friends the Income and Expenses table corresponding to the celebration of the Centennial of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires.

The presidents of the 2018/19 and 2019/20 periods assumed the responsibility of organizing different events.

At the start of the 2019/20 financial year, a specific fund had been raised for the equivalent of about $ 27,000. The preparation of the Centennial Book had also started during the presidency of Ubaldo Aguirre. A team of several partners followed this topic under the coordination of Juan Javier Negri, Raúl José Romero, Juan E. Llamazares and Roberto Martínez.

Throughout the management of Elías Hurtado Hoyo and Eduardo Chehtman, who held more than thirty spiritual, sports, artistic and literary meetings. The Gala Dinner and Anniversary Party was organized for more than 600 people in the “Central de la Sociedad Rural Argentina” Restaurant, as well as three cocktails for three hundred people.

Two high-ranking catalogs were also published.

The necessary funds equivalent to about $ 70,000 were collected during this period to complete the financing.

We must highlight the collaboration of all the Club staff, who added their effort to make the celebrations a success.

As can be seen in the report, the reserves of the RCBA were avoided due to the care with which the expenses were made, donations from members, some special contributions from benefactor members, various sponsors, book sales and some souvenirs.

The Club authorities are pleased to present this summary and reiterate their gratitude to Rotarian partners and employees who, with their contributions of all kinds, made the Centennial celebrations a success, despite the difficult economic circumstances that the Argentine economy was going through. We must clarify that there is a remnant of more than 470 books for sale to partners and third parties or as a gift to guests.

INCOME AND EXPENSE RESULT OF CENTENNIAL EVENTS OF THE ROTARY CLUB OF BUENOS AIRES: $ (279,275).

Although the project of events for the Centennial of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires has been self-sustaining, according to the decisions taken between both Boards of Directors (Presidency of Ing. Ubaldo Aguirre and Presidency of Dr. Elías Hurtado Hoyo) the result of the same has produced a small negative balance, which was covered with the exchange difference resulting from the sale of dollars collected on the occasion of said events, but reserving a large amount in that currency, which helped to increase the savings that are deposited in the HSBC Bank safe deposit box on behalf of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires.

There are 470 Centennial Books left in the secretariat which will serve as various services or to be marketed to Rotarians in other districts or abroad. Each member contributed US $ 60 dollars for his book.

Benefactors — Sponsors

Benefactor is one who does good to one person individually or to several grouped together in an institution. As is well known, the ROTARY CLUB DE BUENOS AIRES is a non-profit institution whose purpose is, among others, to help the most vulnerable. The RCBA has participated in this slogan since its foundation in 1919. But due to the current times, with a greater need of the population due to the difficult economic situation, the RCBA has designed a category of institutional partner, which is a kind of benefactor, which are legal entities that collaborate financially with Rotary, knowing that Your contributions will go to the different works that our Club performs.

It is important to emphasize that the collaboration of the benefactors is not driven by any special interest, much less to obtain some type of remuneration, but quite the contrary, these good actions reflect the philanthropic nature of those who carry it out. For this reason, our RCBA is deeply grateful to those who, selflessly, collaborate so that our institution can fulfill the help that society requires.

Likewise, we resorted to sponsors to achieve what our balance on the economic (see chapter XIV) had a reasonable balance. The sponsor is a sponsor, person or organization that supports or finances an activity or project, which in general in our case was for advertising purposes that we could correspond with banners or promotions in the high-ranking catalogs that were carried out for various events.

In this conjunction of wills, the individual or institutional benefactors, the sponsors related to companies of our associates, it was possible to maintain thanks to both groups our own charitable actions. Their contributions allowed to give hierarchy to all our acts that reinforced the public image of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires and the Argentine Rotarianism.

Schedule. Bulletin N° 8

Authors:

Elias Hurtado Hoyo; Eduardo Chehtman and Carolina P. Morelli

por Elías Hurtado Hoyo - Presidente del Centenario

We were very clear that every episode in life, no matter how brilliant and successful at the time it was carried out, is not recorded in a journalistic note, publication in a magazine, a painting, a monument, a video or in a simple photography, after a little time was lost in the nebula of history.

For this reason, since the beginning of the year 2019, we asked the rotarians that, apart from conducting their initiatives, they should record these events with photographs, videos, or texts. The response was forceful.

Most of what was done was recorded for our Centennial history.

We started already in March to edit a Bulletin with what was being verified. Eight were made in the year. “Centenary” Sociocultural and Sports Activities Schedules, given that the events were incorporated according to the day they were carried out.

Today is the basis of this Digital Book on “Memory of the Activities of the Centenary of the Rotary Club of Buenos Aires and of the Ar- gentine Rotarianism 1919-2019”.

We can only deeply thank the invaluable contribution that the members have made, and the Rotary friends of other clubs that enriched with their ideas, but above all that of being responsible for implementing them.

To the Executive Secretary for her dedication and work for being part of this undertaking ...

Until the next Centenary... 2119
